   Prominent American author, journalist, and blogger Max Blumenthal will be coming to campus in early April to speak. The group's budget is not quite enough to cover the cost of having him come speak so they are asking for other groups to chip in (also seeking co-sponsorship from an academic department). The combined fee for Mr. Blumenthal is $5000.

Student Concerns:
SGA should inquire about issuing an invitation to Bill French to participate in Community in Conversation
Deadline for submissions to Twisted Intersections is approaching.
